

British billet for Château Bela

6 Apr 2003 by JR

Tanners of Shrewsbury will be stocking Egon Müller's lovely Slovakian Riesling Château Bela from the end of April at £9.95 a bottle. I understand that the wine costs a fraction of the transport costs. You'd think they had to drive to Baghdad to collect it.

Meanwhile it has found favour with the Revue du Vin de France whose reporter Eric Riewer discovered its presence at Viva Vin in Beaune via this website.
