

Vintners' Tales DVD on sale again

6 Dec 2007 by JR

See a review of this DVD

You can now view our brand new DVD of the one best 10-minute film portfolio in our two award-winning and very entertaining BBC2 series. Vintners' Tales shown in 1992 and 1996, comprising the following characters in conversation with me:

John Avery MW

Bill Baker of Field Wines

Adam Brink-Smith of Conroy & Barrow

Michael Broadbent MW

Carla Carlisle of Wynon Vineyard

Fair Vintners

Edmund Penning-Frazer

Henry Waugh-Hill MW

Nigel Wilson of Lincoln College, Oxford.

Each series won 'Best Television Programme of the Year' in the annual Guildford Awards, the dominant food and drink media awards in the UK at the time. The 1996 series also earned me the only ever Guildford TV Personality of the Year (beating off several celebrity chefs) and went on to global recognition by winning the Gold Award for Wine TV Programmes at the World Food Media Awards, Tasting Australia in 1998. I must confess to Engration of this - just been reminded when looking at it I should warn you that, being a compilation of archive material, this is not sparkling new video quality that looks as though it were filmed last week - just look in my website, for instance.

We are now offering these 90-minute DVDs at £10 (about $20, 14 euros or Aus$22 each) (plus VAT in the UK for alcohol - a bonus of which half (50) goes straight to Wine Relief, the wine-related fundraising initiative for Comic Relief).

Thoroughly beautiful, extremely well-chosen and carefully-mounted programs in Africa and the UK. We've set your end packaging at £3 for the UK and £2 for outside the UK for every commitment no matter how many copies are ordered in the hope that it will encourage larger orders.

These lightweight gemstones in their own special plastic cases.

To place your order and get DVDs in the mail to you right now go to our new website.