

Guide to our Rhône 2010 coverage

20 Dec 2011 by Jancis Robinson

All this week we are publishing our 650 reviews of the very successful 2010 vintage in both northern and southern Rhône. Below is a list of what we know is either published or will be, most recent articles at the top.

I took the picture of the painting that adorns the label of Chave's special Hermitage Cuvée Cathelin in Jean-Louis Chave's office at the beginning of this month. His was just one of many desks I saw on my travels around Burgundy and the Rhône last autumn prominently sporting a biodynamic calendar.

In our tasting articles we have retained both tasting notes if a wine was tasted both in the Rhône (usually blind with its peers) and in London, and have tried to include as much background information as possible. Prices given are generally in pounds per dozen bottles in bond from the UK importer who showed this wine.
