

New, improved events diary

30 Apr 2012 by Tamlyn Currin

Two weeks ago we launched our free international Events diary, and it already lists nearly 150 wine events in seven countries. From the smartest of fine-wine dinners to natural wine fairs, there is something for every lover of wine.

Since then we have been working to improve the look and functionality of the diary. Thanks to our hard-working development and design team [and a lot of hard work from Tam - JR], it's been given a glossy makeover, and we've added a search function so that you can now find events suited to your requirements - whether by location or type.

This really is a fantastic tool for wine students, for anyone looking for more tasting experience, and for those who want to broaden their knowledge of wine - or just have fun. It includes wine courses for beginners, tutorials with MWs, and masterclasses from some of the most knowledgeable people in the business - as well as walk-around tastings where you can learn at your own pace. You don't have to be a member of our popular Purple Pages to use it, and there is absolutely no charge.

Do encourage people you know who organise wine events to use this useful resource - wherever you are in the world - and spread word of its existence to your fellow wine lovers.
