

Written by
Elaine Chukan Brown
15 May 2017

Oregon's renascent Riesling

In the last 10 to 15 years there has been a small resurgence of interest in Riesling in Oregon. Today around 40 producers work with the variety, meeting as a group a few times a year to taste each others' wines, both before and after bottling. They also host public tastings once a year in conjunction with the annual International Pinot Noir...

- MOST POPULAR Annual membership Perfect for wine lovers £85 annual Join Save £17
- Monthly membership Perfect for wine lovers £8.50 monthly Join
- Still unsure? Find out more about membership and the Jancis Robinson Team. Find out more